One of the most distressing accidents that 'clock, on Seventeenth street near the corner of Walnut alley, between Main and Franklin streets, resulting in the instant killing of a little son of Mr. W. HOW THE ACCIDENT OCCURRED. At the time of the accident the little boy was playing upon the sidewalk not far from tionary or rising barometer, northerly to his father's saloon, just in front of a barbershop-No. 22 Seventeenth street-in company with Mr. B. K. O'Dwyer's little boy, who is about the same age as Mr. Jenkins's child. The two children had been sitting there upon the curb-stone, as we are told, for a short time, when Quillie got up to pick a piece of chalk from the gutter. At the moment that he rose one of Babcock's heavy ice-wagons was passing down Seventeenth street on its way to the ice-house for a load to supply a number of bar-rooms and other noon customers. The horses and forewheels had passed the little boy as he rose. Upon gaining his feet he seemed to totter, and before he could recover his balance he Virginia, I. O. O. Mr. John Whiteside, a valuable mechanic at the shops of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, met with a very serious and painful accident, which will probably be the cause of the loss of one of his legs, and his services to the company for some time. While attempting to put a band on one of the pulleys he had his leg caught in some way in the machinery, and his foot was brought in contact with the circular-saw, nearly severing it from the limb. His leg was also broken below the knee, and it is feared that amputation will be necessary. Mr. Whiteside has been in the employment of the company for a long time.

SUDDEN DEATH.-A colored man named William Wilkerson was found dead at his home, No. 623 Third street, yesterday. On Monday he was out, but complained of being sick. The Coroner concluded that he died of heart-disease. No inquest.

AN OLD PLANK-ROAD IN THE CITY-REMINISCENCES, &c .- Yesterday, while Captain Wilkinson, with his chain-gang, was cutting the trench for a culvert in Lombard alley near Thirteenth street he came across portion of a plank-road five or six feet elow the surface, with the timbers, crosspieces, and plank in a good state of preservation. There is probably no one in the city who remembers the time when this was used as a public road. By reference to a map of the city drawn by Richard Young prior to the year 1809 we find that what is now known as "Governor" or Thirteenth street was put down as a "county road." This road led to the bank of the river (then much wider than it now is) at the point where the gas-holder is located, where a landing known as the "Rock wharf" had been built to allow small vessels to discharge and receive cargoes. It is supposed that the plank unearthed by Captain Wilkinson was used at some time during the last century

FORFEITED THEIR RECOGNIZANCE.-Isaac Schwartz and Thomas Rawlings, two white youths, were arrested on the 3d instant, charged with stealing five brass boxes from the cars at the Richmond and Danville Railroad depôt. Schwartz was bailed by a justice in the sum of $100 for his appearance before the Police Justice on the following morning, with his mother as surety. Rawlings was released on his own recognizance in the same amount. They failed to appear on the 4th instant. An attachment against them was issued, and the case continued to the 10th instant. As they again failed to appear yesterday morning, Justice White returned the warrant, with the magistrate's endorsement thereon, to the attorney for the Commonwealth for such action as may be necessary.

OWNER WANTED .- Jonas Gillard (colored) was arrested by Policeman Burkert, having in his possession a new wheelbarrow which he was endeavoring to sell for twenty-five cents, and which is supposed to have been stolen. The case was continued to Thursday next, and the wheelbarrow remains in the custody of Dr. Antelottl, at the Police Court, where any person who has lost such an article may inspect it.
